BUREAU OF INDIAN STANDARDS ("BIS")
Manak Bhavan 9 Bahadur Shah Zafar Marg,
New Delhi 110002 India.

SUBJECT: LETTER OF CONSENT

Dear Sirs:

We, INTERNATIONAL INSTITUTE OF AMMONIA REFRIGERATION (IIAR), 1001 N. Fairfax Street, Suite 503, Alexandria, VA 22314-1797. United States of America, a non-profit organization that provides education and standards for the refrigeration industry with natural refrigerants, constituted under the laws of the United States, hereby license, BUREAU OF INDIAN STANDARDS (BIS), a National Standards Body of India established under the Bureau of Indian Standards Act, 2016 with its headquarters at Manak Bhavan 9 Bahadur Shah Zafar Marg, New Delhi 110002 India to:

- (i) use the standards developed by the IIAR for the safe design of closed-circuit ammonia refrigeration systems (ANSI/IIAR 2), as a basis for Indian standards
- (ii) allow BIS to adapt the standards, in full or in part to be customized as per country specific requirements

subject to following terms and conditions agreed by BIS :

1. IIAR standards are copyright-protected materials and therefore apply all restrictions in copyright laws and regulations. Providing access to BIS does not yield to any copyright assignment or license.
2. IIAR material protected by copyright is for the exclusive use of BIS and for use by the technical standardization committees as reference material or for adoption as a national standard.
3. Permission is granted to BIS to provide a printed copy or electronic copy of any IIAR standard to the members of the technical Committee based on their requirement to be used by that Committee as a reference and normative basis. IIAR should be informed of all requests for IIAR standards. BIS and committee coordinators are not allowed to make, copy or share additional copies.

Without Prejudice

IIAR material can be published by BIS only with a joint standard-number allotted by the Bureau. Such material can be sold by BIS at reasonable costs with a royalty @ 20% of listed prices to be paid to IIAR. The requests for access to Indian standards adopted or derived from IIAR standards may come online from outside India. Such requests may be addressed by BIS as long as no active promotion and distribution activities are carried out outside India.

4. Each sheet of a published copy of Indian Standard adopted from IIAR standard with or without country specific changes must be stamped with the following legend: "This standard has been provided by BIS and IIAR. It shall not be copied or distributed by other means to other parties without the written permission of IIAR".

5. IIAR representative will be invited as special invitee in the relevant Technical Committee of BIS where IIAR standard(s) are considered for adoption as Indian standards with modifications.

6. BIS agrees that all intellectual property, resulting from the national standardization process under the actions and conditions covered by this Letter of Consent, may be used by BIS and IIAR for marketing only if they are under the Standards formulated by BIS.

7. Both the parties shall be at free will to publicly declare this mutual understanding and execution of the present consent letter via press release, or website display.

8. The main contacts for BIS and IIAR shall be:

9. Provisions for the protection and distribution of intellectual property created or furnished in the course of cooperative activities under this letter of consent shall be governed by Annex I of the Agreement on Science and Technology Cooperation between the Government of the Republic of India and the Government of United States of America [STA]. Provisions for the protection of classified information and unclassified export-controlled information and equipment shall be governed by Annex II of STA.
10. The Parties undertake to resolve amicably any dispute arising under or relating to the interpretation or implementation of this letter of consent through negotiations and consultations between the Parties. A mandatory of 3 minimum consultation meetings shall take place with a gap of at least 3 days in between for such consultations.
11. This consent shall be valid for five years from the date of its signature by both the Parties. Thereafter, it shall be automatically renewed for subsequent period of five years unless terminated earlier. Both the parties, without cause, may withdraw this consent at any time provided there is a written prior notice of not less than sixty (60) days. In the event of withdrawal of this consent, BIS shall suspend any use or reproduction of the IIAR standards for any purpose, except those standards adopted by BIS. The termination of the letter of consent shall not affect the validity or duration of specific collaborative programs already being undertaken thereunder subject to agreed conditions laid down under clause 3 and 4, unless decided otherwise by the Parties by mutual consent.

The present Letter of Consent shall commence upon both the parties putting their signatures hereto.
